

Coordination action for enhancing the breakthrough of intelligent textile systems (e-textiles and wearable Microsystems)

On 25th September 2009, Laura Wilson won the SYSTEMEX STUDENT AWARD 2009.

She won a NavJacket from O'Neill and presented her work at the Smart Textiles Salon 2009 in Ghent.

Why don't YOU win the SYSTEMEX STUDENT AWARD 2010?

Promote your project and seize the chance to present your idea or project with media coverage at the Smart Textiles Salon in autumn 2010.

You can apply for the upcoming SYSTEMEX Student Award 2010 by presenting the results of your thesis or research project on smart textiles.

Please send a report (max. 4 pages) on your research project and a short CV by the end of June 2010 to the SYSTEMEX secretariat:
